DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Claims 2-5,9,10,12,13,15 and 26 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 30 July 2007.

With respect to withdrawn claims 2-5, these claims are drawn to the package body depicted in Fig. 19, the Examiner is not able to find support in the specification of the use of the device package of the elected species shown in Figs. 14A-C with the package body of Fig. 19. Accordingly, as there is no known relationship between these two species, the claims drawn to the package body of Fig. 19 are withdrawn as not corresponding to the elected species of Figs. 14A-C. Additionally, it is noted that Eldridge, Jr. et al. US 4,395,807 shows in Figs. 15-18 how a medical device package is incorporated into a package body having a regular circular array. Eldridge, Jr. et al. US 4,395,807 is herein set forth as extrinsic evidence of the relationship between a medical device package and a package body.

With respect to withdrawn claims 12 and 26, these claims set forth a rigid projection, as is shown in the species of the present application shown in Fig. 10A, and which is not shown in the elected species. Accordingly, these claims are withdrawn.

This requirement is made final.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1,6,7,8,11,14,16,20,21 and 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lipton US 4,985,034.

Lipton discloses the medical device package having a proximal end, a proximal cap 44 that is inherently capable of being breached (i.e. broken), a distal end having an integrally formed end “cap” (the end wall), opposing deformable projections 16 that may deform to an angle in relation to the body of 20 degrees to 80 degrees, and a frangible projection 14. Lipton further discloses the method of use limitations of claims 20,21 and 25 that set forth the use of the above recited elements.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 17-19 and 22-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lipton US 4,985,034 in view of Examiner's Official Notice.

With respect to claims 17-19, these materials are not set forth in Lipton. However, these are all well known materials in medical storage devices for their known benefits. The applicant has cited references to this effect. Accordingly, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill to use these materials in the package of Lipton.

With respect to claims 22-25, again the Examiner submits that the tape 44 as is shown in Fig. 6 of Lipton and described in col. 5, lines 3-8 is inherently capable of being breached (broken), but there is no recitation of it actually being breached as is called for in these method claims. Lipton does set forth the purpose of tape 44 as being used to indicate sterility or lack of tampering. The Examiner takes Official Notice that breakable (breachable) foils are an art recognized equivalent structure in accomplishing these two purposes in medical devices. Sacherer US 6,497,845 and Magney US 4,180,162 provide extrinsic evidence of this assertion. Magney shows element 18 set forth as a pressure sensitive foil. Accordingly, the claims drawn to the breaching of the cap member do not define over Lipton.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Jerrold Johnson whose telephone number is 571-272-7141. The examiner can normally be reached on 9:30 to 6:00 M-F.
